Volunteering Combats Loneliness

People often volunteer to find a sense of purpose, learn new skills, improve their communities or establish new routines after retiring. For many, making friends through volunteer work is a welcome bonus. The act of volunteering provides proven benefits for older adults. Forming connections can make all the difference in a person's volunteer experience and sense of well-being. People who meet through volunteering inherently share common interest and something to bond over. These friendships can carry over outside of volunteer work and lead to bonding over other hobbies and interests. So, get out there and volunteer!

Until one day a stranger comes to town and knocks everything sideways. Then Sadie finds herself a lifeline—if she can figure out how to grab it. Go to Fairfield Library's Info Desk to get a copy.
